Repentance and Trust

God's peace to you and your family during these times of uncertainty. Just a month ago, a team and I were meeting with church leaders from the area sharing the Trauma Healing workshop. We talked about forgiveness, turning to Jesus when life is hard, and bringing about God's work of healing and reconciliation. During that week, they were able to discover that God forgives even our secret sins, that there are practical ways in which to help support their pastors, and that talking with their children is a healthy practice that can strengthen their family. We praise God for their willingness to draw pictures, search Scripture, and be honest about what is going on in their lives so that the Holy Spirit can bring about healing and wholeness. It is then that His light will be able to shine more brightly in their lives and in the communities around them, giving glory to God above.

Two weeks later, when my life plans began to crumble, thankfully this workshop was fresh in my mind. I was able to grieve and turn my pain and confusion over to the LORD, remembering that we can turn to Jesus who carried our pain and sin on the cross. God often uses what we share with others to teach us more about Himself as well. Even in the midst of chaos, sickness and unfulfilled plans, we can trust in our God who is constant.

Wedding Update

With all of the cancelled flights and risk of travel, we quickly realized that our wedding might not happen when we were hoping it would. Since we need domestic flights to bring people to Ukarumpa in order to get married legally, our wedding is postponed until the flights start up again. It has been difficult to prepare for marriage, plan and unplan a wedding in unpredictable times, only to have to wait. We are doing our best to keep our eyes on God for how to plan next.

Happy Easter from Josh and Jenny

Ukaradio

As one of the ways to encourage people on center, a weekday radio station was created. I was invited to share the daily dose of devotions for 5 minutes once a week as long as the radio is up and running. It has been fun to share Scripture, encouraging those around us to seek God’s face, trusting Him in all things.

Upcoming Schedule: Please pray for us as we wait and see when and how we can get married this year. Pray we can start up with workshops again since everything is on hold.

Thank you so much for your continued prayers and partnership in ministry. It may look different lately, but Josh and I are still blessed to support and encourage the work of Bible translation here as we wait on the LORD for guidance and provision in our lives.

Blessings in Christ, Jenny LeMahieu
