What did you learn from the pandemic this Summer?

Joshua: I learned to trust God.

Jaedyn: I learned to pray for others who are sick.

Jaelah: I learned to treasure my family.

175 Days of God's Grace

COVID-19 is real and ongoing. On June 3rd, James learned that his sisters whole family who lives in Illinois was infected with COVID-19. James was socked and scared when he heard the news. Tears overflowed, and we spent many nights in prayer. They stayed at home and took medicine for fourteen days. Thanks to God they are all better now and living normal again without COVID-19. In Queretaro, many of our partner ministry COMPA staff's and students families and friends have been sick with COVID-19 and cancer. Some have recovered from it, but others did not make it. Fear is ubiquitous. We have mourned with those we are mourning. We have prayed for them. We have been feeling sad with them for losing those loved ones. God's words have comforted us from Psalms 119:50 "This is my comfort in my affliction, that Your word has revived me."

On the other hand, James has been providing pastoral care to COMPA staff and volunteers. We listen and meditate to God's word and then take a moment of silence. James created 1-2-3 Spiritual direction exercise.

1: Share ONE thing you are most struggling with in the crisis.

2: Share TWO new opportunities of how you served God during the crisis.

3. Share THREE gratitudes to God in the crisis.

See picture above where James led the 1-2-3 spiritual direction in Zoom meeting. Each person shared their 1-2-3 and then prayed for that person. Fernando who is wearing a blue shirt said, "This exercise of 1-2-3 helped me to recognize again that God's grace is sufficient in the crisis." Thus, His grace comforts us in times of suffering and loss.

The Free Little Library ministry

The little library continues to be a blessing to our neighborhood. We have continued to place rice, beans, soap and Bibles in the library. Often, the doorbell rings if there is not food in the library box. People have opened up to us sharing their family struggles when we answer the door. We offer prayer to the people we meet at the box. Notes are left sometimes in the box asking for prayer or telling us thank you for the rice and beans. Up to date, 70 Bibles have been shared through the little library. WE praise God that his Word goes forth this way. Recently, an American retired former prison guard who lives nearby took notice of our library box. She occasionally drops off a few kilos of rice and beans. She commented to Barbarita that she is not Christian, but can see that God is working through this project and us. She said she had wanted to help people for sometime but didn't know how to do it. She is thankful that she can also bless others through the Little Free Library Project. If you would like to directly be part of the ongoing blessing of the Little Free Library, please email us directly (missionarylee@gmail.com) or visit the special Facebook page dedicated to pictures of its contents and stories of hope: "Little Free Library Queretaro."
